THE NEAR EAST TENSION.

Conciliation or Dissimulation.

WHICH IS KEMAL PRACTISING?

(Reuter's Service.)

London, October 1.
The whole country is anxiously awaiting to hear what steps General Harrington has taken as the result of his instructions to the Turkish evacuation of the neutral zone. The Cabinet, however, was equally unenlightened until last night, and nothing has been permitted to leak out as to what transpired at its midnight sitting. Unconfirmed reports from Paris, however, indicate that the situation is somewhat easier as the result of a message from M. Franklin Bouillon reflecting a more conciliatory attitude on Kemal's part.

Lord Cavan and Air-Marshal Trenchard attended the midnight council, while Admiral Beatty was in telephonic communication.

Situation Easier, Says One Version.

Lately.
The Cabinet sat for two and a half hours this morning and met in the afternoon. The Military, Naval, and Air Chiefs were sent for an hour in the morning.

It is understood that the meetings were not owing to any urgent new development, but to a desire of Ministers to keep in touch with headquarters in the event of important news arriving. It is learned from authoritative quarters that there is good reason to suppose that the situation is easier. The Turks are already preparing for the conference between the Allied Generals and Mustafa Kemal at Mudania on the 3rd inst. The news of the military situation is more satisfactory. The position at Chanak is better.

Conference Definitely Fixed.

The reason of the distinct easing of the Near East situation is receipt of official news that the Turks have withdrawn from Moudia. The military authorities at Constantinople are no longer doing as regards immediate developments.

The meeting at Mudania has been definitely fixed for the 3rd inst. and will be attended by Kemal Pasha, General Harrington, the British General Charpy, and the Italian General Mombelli.

Conference Arrangements.

Constantinople, October 1.
M. Franklin Bouillon has not come to Anzora, but is expected to-day aboard the cruiser Metz. Kemal Pasha is proceeding to Ankara from Smyrna.

Paris, October 1.

A message from Smyrna states that as the result of a conference between Franklin Bouillon and Kemal Pasha, it is proposed to subject to the approval of the Allies, a military conference at Mudania on October 3 to establish methods of procedure regarding military evacuation of the neutral zones and Thrace, preliminary to a diplomatic conference to be held about November 15, proposed that General Harrington represent Britain.

The "Real Menace"

Constantinople, October 1.
There seems little doubt now that the Turkish forces in the Near East are merely intended to act as a blind while Kemal tries more serious plans. There is absolutely no evidence of infantry or artillery anywhere within striking distance of the neutral zone on the contrary, there are good grounds for believing that very important forces are advancing towards Ismid with Constantinople as their objective. This is the real menace of the situation.

Melbourne, October 1.

Labour's Commonwealth Council of Action has issued a manifesto declaring that Mr. Hughes has dishonoured the solemn pledge that the recent war, which cost sixty thousand Australian lives, would be the last by servile acquiescence to veiled commands of British Imperialists to plunge Australia into another war. The manifesto threatens to organise a general strike or take summary action to prevent the manufacture of munitions and transport of troops.

Turks Promise Immediate Cessation of Operations.

Paris, October 1.
Yusuf Kemal, the Ankara Foreign Minister, has sent a message to Poincaré that he anticipates an early opening of the peace conference, and promises the immediate cessation of military operations which were developing in the direction of Constantinople. He requests the Greek evacuation of Thrace, and promises a reply to the Allied Note in a few days.

Turks Agree to Tentative Allied Occupation of Thrace.

Constantinople, October 1.
Jasmet Pasha is to represent Kemal at Mudania in consequence of the necessity of Kemal proceeding to Ankara. The Turks have agreed to the suggestion to despatch Allied troops to Thrace during the process of the transition. The High Commissioner is sending a French mission to Adrianople, an Italian mission to Luleburgaz, and a British mission to Rodosto to protect the inhabitants and safeguard monuments.

AUSTRIA'S INDEPENDENCE.

Italy as an Obstacle.

London, October 1.
Lord Balfour's insistence on the independence of Austria in connection with the loan mentioned earlier is explained by the Observer's correspondent at Geneva, who says that apparently Italy, which is one of the four guarantors of the loan, desires that the Control Commission shall not be under the League of Nations but under the guarantors of the loan, which will mean that Austria's independence will have one. It is hoped that Italy will alter her mind but if not, the other three guarantors, Britain, France and Czechoslovakia, will take over the whole 80 per cent. the remaining 20 per cent. could be easily guaranteed. Belgium has already agreed it is expected that Switzerland will agree.

FRENCH SEAMEN'S STRIKE.

Dockers and Coalmen Act in Sympathy.

Marseilles, October 1.
With the object of helping the striking seamen, dockers and coalmen have refused to handle cargo of coal vessels manned by strikers.

MEXICAL MUTINY SUPPRESSED.

El Paso, October 1.
Mexican Federal troops have suppressed the mutiny at Juarez, arrested several leaders.

MURDER OF CHINESE DETECTIVE.

Two Men on Trial.

At the Police Court this morning there was a sequel to the murder of Detective Sin Chuen, when Chu Kam, 31, described as the proprietor of the Man Yik Wo shop, of No. 214, Queen's Road West, and a native of Hop Wo village, in the Ching Yuen District, and Li Shing-cheung, 37, described as being without fixed abode for occupation, a native of Ho Yuen City, in the district of the same name, were charged with murder of the officer and with being concerned with others in an armed robbery.

The prisoners were arrested following the commission of the armed robbery at No. 26, Wing Wo Street, resulting in the death by shooting of Sin Chuen. On the man Li Shing-cheung it is alleged that a revolver loaded in five chambers was found, and this gave rise to the framing of a third charge against the prisoner.

In opening the case, the Crown Solicitor (Mr. H. K. Holmes) said that on the night of the 29th, September, at about 7.30, some robbers—the evidence of the particular witness he was going to call would speak as to two—entered the first floor of No. 26, Wing Wo Street. They opened certain safes to rob them, and then went up to the second floor, where attempts were made to open the safe there also. The respective keys were in the possession of a man who was away, for which reason efforts were made to force the receptacles open. The particular witness who would be produced would say that he was temporarily staying at the Kwong Tak Loong on this floor, and that on returning in the evening from a walk in town he was met on the first floor by two men, one of whom pointed a revolver at him. At the time this witness, who was a trader with Cuba on a visit to his native village, was wearing a gold watch and chain with a coin ornament which he had just received from being repaired at a watchmaker's. The number of the receipt given by the watchmaker agreed with that inscribed on the watch. After seizing him, one man bound and gagged the trader, and took the watch from his pocket. He was then put into one of the cubicles, and there being very little light at the time, and he being very much frightened, he said he could not say who the robbers were, and could not even describe them. In the cubicle he stayed for about half an hour, and he would say that that he heard a whistle being blown outside, apparently in the street; then the robbers ran away, and almost directly afterwards a report of firearms occurred in the street. He reported the matter to Inspector Pinnett on the latter's arrival at the premises within an hour after the discharge of the firearms. The next occasion he saw his watch was at the Police Station when it was shown to him.

At the conclusion of his remarks, the Crown Solicitor referred to the dispatch with which evidence from this witness had to be obtained that morning, as the result of the man's express decision to return to Cuba by tomorrow's boat. The watch was taken from the person of one of the prisoners, and the evidence of the witness being essential for the purpose of the prosecution, the powers granted under the new amendment of the law relating to evidence and to the administration of oaths, would be used in the case, the Magistrate to take such signed depositions of the witness as would enable the Supreme Court to later deal with these as evidence in the case of a conviction. Mr. Holmes pointed out that the amendment did not mean a changing of the system of evidence. It was there a lot of inconviences, as, although they could say that the witness had seen the robbery, they could not say that the witness had seen the robbery.

BANQUE INDUSTRIELLE.

The Position in Hongkong.

A telegram published to-day states that the Banque Industrielle de Chine will open its doors in Shanghai and Peking on or before October 10th. As reports made inquiries as to the branch of the local branch operating in Hongkong, it appears that the Hongkong branch will not be affected in any way.

To re-open in French territory or concessions the Bank has to fulfil the requirements of the French Government. With the exception of the agreement of the French Parliament, this matter is practically settled, so it is probable that some of the branches under the French flag will be opening shortly, the position was informed.

To re-open under foreign flag the Bank has to satisfy the requirements of the French law and also the requirements of the law of the foreign country in whose territory or concessions it is situated.

It is in the interest of the Bank itself and of its shareholders and creditors that business shall be resumed as soon as possible. Owing to the requirements of the various countries in which the Banque Industrielle carries on business, it will be possible to re-open these institutions under a French flag first, and this will be done if the Bank waits until it is in a position to open its branches before it starts business, many branches will be closed when they could be open, and doing business, with which had policy. It is therefore probable that some of the branches of the Banque Industrielle will be opened before others, and it seems that those at Shanghai and Peking are two of them.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

A Yamma Incident.

Two shots were fired in an attempted murder case occurring at Yamma at 6.30 yesterday morning. A man named Man Kich was arrested immediately after the shooting and he will be duly charged before the magistrate.

It is alleged that Man Kich came up behind the complainant, and fired two shots with a revolver, but the bullet went wide. As the shooting occurred on a piece of vacant ground only a stone's throw from the Police Station, the arrest of the alleged culprit followed very quickly on the shooting.

The prosecution would, of course, have preferred that the witness remained in the Colony for the trial, but that could not be, as the man had expressly decided to go back to Cuba by the boat on which he had obtained a passage. Evidence was then taken from Chu Pak, the witness in question, after which the hearing was adjourned.

The Funeral.

The funeral of the late Detective Sergeant Sin Chuen took place yesterday afternoon, when the various sections of the Police Force were represented in paying a last tribute to a brave colleague. The remains were taken from the Government Hospital mortuary and transferred aboard a junk to be conveyed to Namtan, where they will be interred in the native village of the deceased. Eight Europeans, twenty Indians and about two hundred Chinese from the Force accompanied the cortege to the Praya West.

Included in the procession were the Captain Superintendent of Police (Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe), the Deputy Superintendent of Police (Mr. W. H. King), the Assistant Superintendent (Mr. C. G. Egan), Mr. E. ## SUN YAT-SEN'S REPLY.

Shanghai Newspaper
Comment.

Shanghai, Sept. 30.

The North China Daily News
in a leader outlines the Hongkong Telegraph's exposure, and discusses Sun Yat-sen's reply.It is difficult to comment on this correspondence in view of the Sun Yat-sen's assertion of inaccurate translation. How far this assertion will serve to explain away the repeated emphasis laid upon the necessity for secrecy, both in Germany and China, is open to speculation. But, apart from the letters, here is the Sun Yat-sen's own statement, containing abundant food for thought.He scoffs at the idea of wishing to introduce Communism into China, which we may believe because Dr. Sun cannot be ignorant of the appalling calamities which Communism has brought upon Russia, and as he rightly says, China certainly has no appearance of providing the sort of soil for the flourishing growth of Bolshevism
that was found in Russia.

The Triple Alliance.

On the other hand, Dr. Sun is prepared and even anxious for some sort of Triple Alliance between China, Russia and Germany, and from the point of view of China, this is surely playing with very sharply edged tools. It is accepted, for argument's sake, that the distinction between aggressive and non-aggressive power which Dr.
Sun draws, if we accept his important implication that, say, all the Powers enjoying extraterritorial rights in China are merely interested in trading in their own things, they can then be not unnatural that she should look to ally herself with other Powers which are themselves in antagonism to the rest of the world. But is this distinction a correct one? After the Washington Conference one might think that it could have been revised with a little more appreciation of the Great Powers' attitude towards China. Furthermore, can Soviet Russia really be classed as a non-aggressive Power?

Beneficent Russia.

Her practical appropriation of Mongolia, which she is administering as if it were her own, proves that Dr. Sun's ideal of Soviet non-interference in the Far East is impossible. In point of fact the Soviet policy is a more brutal form of aggression than any imperialism overseas dreamed of, for as we know from confidential statements made by the Soviet leaders, written and spoken, it deliberately seeks the corruption and destruction of all other forms of government and social order, the elimination of the law, even the removal of elements to cause anarchy and, although without triumphing over Russia, models can be seen in China, Japan, and other parts of the world, and these models are never far from the mind of the Soviet leader. For in a word, Soviet Russia is such a ravaging hunter with whom no dealings such as Dr. Sun dreams are most recently possible, and it is greatly to be regretted that this man Sun's influence upon a certain section of feeling in China should understand a course full of trouble for his country.Dr. Sun's statement, which followed the complete Hongkong Telegraph exposure, was printed in the Evening Star and China Press.DISAPPEARANCE OF ARMS.Tokyo, Sept. 30.—The Government is undertaking a thorough investigation of the truth of the allegations that Army officers are connected with the disappearance of arms from Siberia. Publication of the results is promised according to the statement of the Vice Minister for Foreign Affairs.— Reuter.Tokyo, October 1.—It is very reliably stated that investigations confirm the disappearance of large quantities of arms from Siberia, of which nineteen truckloads
belonged to Czechoslovakia, placed in the custody of the Japanese. The officer in charge of the latter has been arrested and will be court-martialled. Thirty-two truckloads were sent to Mukden.
The authorities have so far not fixed the responsibility for the disappearance.—Reuter.

FIGHTING IN FUKIEN.

Appeal for Assistance.

Peking, September 30.—It is understood that Li Hou-chi has telegraphed to the Government stating that the situation in Fukien is critical and urging the Government to assist him against Wang Yung-chuan and Hsu Chung-chi.—

EARLIER TELEGRAMS

THE DARDANELLES.

Constantinople, Sept. 30.

Replying to Major-General Harrington's second Note requesting his retirement from the Neutral Zone, Kemal Pasha states that if the British are prepared to withdraw from the Asiatic coast, as have done the French and Italians, he will order his forces to withdraw slightly and only act in a police capacity.He announces his departure for Angora to meet the National Assembly, but he will meet Major-General Harrington on the earliest possible occasion.The correspondent of the Chicago Tribune at Smyrna sends the text of the reply of the Angoran Government to the Allied Note, which accepts the wishes contained therein conditionally on Constantinople and all Eastern and Western Thrace being immediately ceded. It accepts an interview at Mudania to prepare the scope of a future conference.Short of an actual outbreak of hostilities, the situation is as ugly as it could be. The Government assurance to Major-General Harrington is impelled by the fact that the massing of Turkish troops round the British position at Chanak is full of menace. It is assumed in London that Major-General Harrington will impose a time limit, and if the Turks refuse to withdraw there will be fighting;
but a midnight report from Paris that an ultimatum had already been launched, has evoked a prompt denial here.

Smyrna, Sept. 30.

Mr. Franklin Baillon has arrived and has interviewed Kemal Pasha. Both have left for Angora.

Constantinople, Sept. 30.

The Angora representative has informed the British authorities that Kemal Pasha hopes to arrange a meeting with Major General Harrington in a couple of days' time.

London, Sept. 30.

M. Venizelos has arrived here.

Athens, Sept. 30.

The new Cabinet has been sworn in. M. Zaimis is Premier and
M. Vassiliou is Minister for Foreign Affairs.
M. Zaimis and M. Politis are at present abroad, hence M.
Kritas and M. Camillepoules respectively are acting as Premier and Foreign Minister.

London, Sept. 30.

It is learned in London that ex-King Constantine and his family will depart from Athens on board a Greek merchantman for a neutral port.

Paris, Oct. 1.

It is reported from Athens that ex-King Constantine and family are proceeding to Italy and will probably settle at Palermo.

Malta, Sept. 30.

H.M.S. King George V. has been taken hurriedly out of dock and is now sailing and provisioning before departing for Constantinople.
H.M.S. Abou will sail next week. Their arrival will make a total of nine capital ships, mounting 24 15-inch and 60 13.5-inch guns.

Paris, Sept. 30.

A message from Angora states that aeroplanes bombed Greek ships off Attene.

Rome, Oct. 1.

The Pope has telegraphed to Mustafa Kemal, asking him to countermand the order fixing 30th September for the evacuation of Greeks and Armenians from Smyrna. His Holiness entrusts all Christians to the care of the Archbishop of Smyrna.

London, Oct. 1.

The danger of the position was not relieved by the long Cabinet meeting yesterday afternoon. It was stated on adjournment that there was absolutely nothing new, and surprise was felt that no had come to hand. The Cabinet re-assembled late last evening and until 12.40 this morning. It adjourned until 10 a.m. it was stated that there was no material change in the situation.The Shanghai Express correspondent at Constantinople reports that Major-General Harrington has actually proceeded to Mudania to meet Kemal Pasha, but London's political correspondent announces "definitely and with official authority that until Kemal Pasha withdraws from the neutral zone the Allies will decline to meet him in conference" and concludes from this that no sort of meeting will be arranged until then. Speculation is rife not un-tinged with unfriendliness over the presence of M. Venizelos in London also over the forthcoming arrival of the Greek multimillionaire, Sir Hui Zuhareff, who some time back was credited with exercising great influence in political circles. M. Venizelos sought out many journalists yesterday and eventually issued a statement on behalf of the new Greek government, asking him to represent them in Europe, but he is first examining Allied opinion and will probably visit the Foreign Office before returning to Paris to see M. Poincaré on Tuesday.

Paris, Oct. 1.

According to Le Journal a telegram from Mr. Franklin Baillon was read to the Anglo-Italian ambassadors by M. Poincaré yesterday. It stated that Mustafa Kemal was most conciliatory and ready immediately to discuss the conditions of an armistice. He intended to ask the National Assembly at Angora to accept the Allies' proposals. The telegram added that the Turks would agree to Allied contingents occupying Thrace pending the outcome of the Peace Conference.

BANER IN THE LIMELIGHT.

New York, Sept. 30.

The banker, Mr. James Stillman, has attached $2,000,000 deposited by Herr Hui Stinnes in New York banks, in connection with a claim for services in promoting a loan of $3,000,000,000.Mr. Stillman alleges that one of Herr Stinnes' schemes was to give a promissory note for $3,100,000,000 for the purchase in the United States of billions of marks, with which he intended to buy mortgages held by the German Hansa Corporation, after which Herr Stinnes planned to send the mortgages to the United States as collateral security for a two billion dollars loan based on pre-war values. Mr. Stillman, however, states that he refused his cooperation.

New York, Sept. 30.

Mr. Stillman, the New York banker, has been refused a divorce by the referee appointed to hear the evidence, who has cleared the wife of all charges made by her husband.

FINANCIAL AID FOR AUSTRIA.

Geneva, Sept. 30.

The Balfour Committee which was entrusted with the question of financial aid for Austria has decided upon a loan to the amount of 650,000,000 gold kroner.

Geneva, Oct. 1.

The final sitting of the Assembly of the League was marked by a warm demonstration in favour of Earl Balfour, who made a statement on the nature of the assistance it had been decided should be given to Austria in the shape of a loan of 65,000,000 gold kroner, guaranteed by the European nations.Earl Balfour said a protocol guaranteeing the inviolability and independence of Austria was being prepared. Control was indispensable, but the experts hoped two years would suffice for Austria to resume her individual existence. It is anticipated that the remaining hitch will be removed in a few days.Count Mensdorff, expressing Austria's gratitude, declared that M. Balfour's authority and talent were never better displayed.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

Geneva, Sept. 30.

Brazil, Spain, Uruguay, Belgium, Sweden and China have been elected non-permanent members of the League Council.

Geneva, Oct. 1.

The Council of the League has abolished the system of apportioning League expenses on the basis of the population and substituted units based on the amount of each country's wealth.
The total of units is 944. Britain's share is 95, Japan's 75, China and India's 65 each.The Council of the League adopted a report by Viscount Ishii, determining Germany, Belgium, Canada, France, Britain, India, Italy and Japan as the most important countries from the industrial viewpoint. Switzerland, which is not yet represented on the Administrative Council of the International Labour Office was consequently replaced by India.

THE COTTON SLUMP.

London, Sept. 30.

At a further meeting of Cotton Spinners at Manchester, presided over by Sir Charles Macara, was announced the appointment of an Emergency Committee representing large interests, to deal with the situation.It was decided to interview the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners' Association with a view to securing co-operation for the further curtailment of production.

London, Oct. 1.

The Mississippi Cotton King, Mr. Henry Fisher, left Liverpool for America after a six days' visit. Interviewed, he said he found the cotton business on this side decidedly dull. He said $30 a bale more were obtainable in America than in England.
The coming short time here was depressingly affecting the raw cotton markets.The English viewpoint was expressed by Mr. Philip Whitehead, a leading Manchester spinner, travelling on the same steamer.
He said English manufacturers were at present not justified in spinning for stock; hence the inevitable short time. The Near East trouble was decidedly affecting the situation.

ROSARY SUNDAY.

Festival at Kowloon.

Yesterday being the Feast of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary, the Rosary Church at Kowloon, which is the seat of the local confraternity, had its customary festival.
The venerable rector, Rev. Father Spada, celebrated masses at 8.15 a.m., 7 a.m. and 8 a.m.; and at 9.30 there was a pontifical high mass.The evening service was at 4.45 p.m., when there was the recitation of the Rosary, with procession, sermon and benediction. The procession was of the usual picturesque character. In front was borne the Banner of Our Lady. Then came girls scattering flowers, followed by members of St. Joseph's Apostleship of Study, Apostleship of Prayer, St. Joseph's Confraternity, Blessed Sacrament Confraternity, Bearers of the Mysteries of the Rosary, Confraternity of the

The Concluding Day.

The last of the Championship events—the quarter-mile—was won by D. Lyon in the third and final day of the aquatic festival held under the auspices of the Victoria Recreation Club on Saturday. By this success Lyon gains the distinction of being an all-round champion in the individual events of this season, his closest rival being D. Laing who had to be content with second place.

In the quarter mile there were four competitors. The completion of the sixth length saw the elimination of B. Rasmussen, who was gradually left behind though he gamely persevered until the finish was witnessed. The two interport swimmers were level with G. Jack, the other competitor, until the close of the eighth length when what has appeared to be the inevitable rule this season developed itself. Lyon went ahead, followed by Laing and then Jack. To those who had witnessed the previous championship contests and seen the situation as it now repeated itself there was not much doubt left as to the probable results. The distance between the respective swimmers increased into two yards just before the last length, and at the close Lyon won, his time being 5 mins. 39 secs. as against Laing's 6 mins. 9 1/2 secs. Rasmussen was two whole lengths behind.

A promising young swimmer has emerged from the contest in the person of Miss Molly Groundwater, whose win over Miss E. Bell surprised many. In the 100 Yards Ladies' Championship Race she had a very comfortable win beating the favourite by about half a length.

Presentation of Prizes.

The prize donors included His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government, Messrs. A. S. Watson and Co., Dr. Forgyth, Capt. Lacey, Messrs. Young, Mr. R. M. Dyer, Mr. C. Burney, Mr. L. Shiner, the Sincere Company, Club de Recreio, Lusitano Recreation Club and the United Athletic Club.

At the conclusion of the sports the prizes were distributed by Mrs. Severn.

His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government made a short speech, in which he commented on several of the important races. Referring to the half mile championship, he said it was a very fine race and he congratulated the winner, Lyon, on his success. His time was 12 mins. 40 secs. A promising swimmer in this event was May, who showed very good form and promised to become a first class swimmer. The 100 yards championship was also won by Lyon, who beat Jack by 12ths of a second. Rasmussen, who came in third, was another promising man. The 200 yards championship was a very finely contested race, won by Lyon in 2 mins. 40 secs., the same time as that made by Stummens, of Shanghai, in last year's Interport. Lyon added to his successes by winning the 40 Yards Championship, with Laing second. A noticeable feature of the sports, His Excellency said, was the large number of competitors, especially among the boys, with no less than 15 entries, and also the girls' handicap.

The Interport

Referring to the Interport at Shanghai, His Excellency said he was sure their thanks were due to Mr. Sewell for the competent way in which he handled the team. (Applause) To put a second string of swimmers in the half mile and to obtain both first and second places was an excellent achievement. Although Hongkong was not successful at Shanghai in the team events they managed to win seven out of the eleven individual events. (Applause)

His Excellency expressed on behalf of the Club thanks to Mr. A. A. Alves, the Chairman of the Bathing Committee, who had worked with energy all through the festival. Rev. G. T. Waldegrave, in the absence of Mr. Wicheil, had come to the front and performed his duties with wonderful success and had ensured discipline by keeping the competitors up to time. (Applause) Mr. G. T. May had also given great assistance; he did not think Mr. May was ever absent from any of the athletic contest in the Colony. (Applause) His Excellency also made reference to the enormous amount of work successfully carried out by Mr. McKirdy as Hon. Secretary.

Mrs. Severn was then asked by Mr. Logan to distribute the prizes, at the conclusion of which pleasant little ceremony, she graciously accepted a lovely bouquet tied with the Club's colours, presented on behalf of the Committee and members of the Club, by little Miss Doris Hunt.

His Excellency mentioned that it was proposed to hold the harbor race for ladies on the 9th October and for men on the following day. Cheers all round concluded the proceedings.

TIGERS STILL FOUND IN SINGAPORE

The most interesting exhibit at meeting of the Natural History Society was the tiger shot on Sunday in the Bukit Timah district by a hunter, who is said to have bagged several tigers on this island during the past few years. The other tiger which has been seen several times, on the last occasion on the road beyond Changi, and has now been narrowed down to a comparatively small area, will probably fall a victim very shortly, unless it manages to break through the observation cord and make off to one of the islands. The occurrence on the island of tigers, which creeps over from the mainland, is by no means as rare as some people imagine.—Singapore Free Press, Sept. 14.

THE QUADRUPLE PACT.

Japan's Adherence.

It is not for man's proven capacity to do good, one might believe the most extraordinary thing in the world was his readiness to think evil, says the Christian Science Monitor, commenting on a recent "news" item. A genuinely great conference of the Great Powers was lately held at Washington. After extended and detailed debate, with solemn formality and widest publicity, certain treaties were signed and sealed. Of the four parties contracting in the central document, the so called Four-Power Pact, having to do with very considerable reductions of naval armaments, the United States and Japan have already ratified. Almost concurrently with that welcome action came a report that Tokyo's Admiralty is, to all intents, violating the Nation's pledge. It was not an attack on Japanese good faith generally, set forth in indefinite terms, but the specific statement advanced by a New York City journal of extensive circulation, that the Mikado's Government were both planning and actually building so large a number of fighting craft, of types not directly restricted by the treaty, that they were at once ignoring national honour and menacing the peace of the Pacific. Then a Senator of the United States urged in the Upper Chamber of Congress that all action relative to certain "scrapping" legislation be deferred till Japan's intentions might be made clear.

Now one of three things is true: the island Kingdom is utterly unworthy of any least confidence, or certain well-mentioned folk are fearfully distressed over misinformation, or some one is deliberately "sniping" at the treaties for purposes which do not appear on the surface. Admirals Baron Kato, Premier of Japan and Minister of the Navy, meets the attack squarely. Further, he disposes of it in such a way as should put a sudden end either to honest charge or poisoned whispers. Here are his two brief sentences, setting forth the bold fact:

"The Imperial Japanese Navy intend to live up to the spirit of the Washington Conference, as well as the letter of the naval treaty framed there. The Japanese Navy has not the slightest intention of embarking on any programme or undertaking that the peaceful spirit that pervaded the Conference would not countenance, by taking advantage of the fact that the naval treaty does not stipulate restrictions as to number and tonnage other than for auxiliary craft."

This declaration, continues the Boston Journal, was accompanied by elaborate figures in full explanation of the naval programme which the nation now is to carry forward, set down in comparison with those of the much-talked-of "eight-eight" schedule of pre-Conference discussions. Comparing, as between these documents, the ship classes left unrestricted by the agreements, one sees Japan making several reductions in the old plan, neither mandatory nor ordered. She has struck from the list one cruiser, twelve destroyers and twenty-four submarines that she might have built under the treaty's mere letter. This reduction amounts to some 14,000 tons and a cut in personnel of about 12,000, and the Premier adds: "There is absolutely no chance that this limit will be exceeded." In other words, Japan loyally is living up to not only the black-and-white phrases of her pledges, but their import as well.

THE WOMAN OF THIRTY.

Often in Need of Help.

At thirty a woman may reasonably expect to enjoy good health, having then overcome the troubles of early womanhood, yet being free of the later trials of middle-age; but various causes tend to undermine the strength of many women of thirty.

Foremost among these causes are the cares of motherhood and household worries, which have a depressing effect on a woman's regular health and nervous system; then, again, women in business will often be similarly afflicted, for overwork, business anxieties, hurried meals, too little rest and lack of sufficient outdoor recreation thin the blood and give rise to much suffering.

Among the prominent symptoms of thin blood are headache, backache, weakness in the limbs and poor appetite. Still, keen as the distress may be, a little help is usually all the system needs.

All run-down conditions call for richer, better blood; good blood is red, blood, and on this a woman's health depends. The best of good red blood is created by Dr. Williams' pink pills and this is why these pills enjoy their reputation among women. They are the tonic best adapted for women's needs so if you suffer, avail yourself to-day of the health-help of Dr. Williams' pink pills for pale people. Obtain them of any dealer, or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 66 Essex Street, London, price $1.50 per bottle, $3.00 for 6 bottles, post free.

DR SUN'S REPLY.

After many days of cogitation, and, we may presume, hard thinking, Sun Yat-sen has replied to our disclosure regarding the proposed conclusion of a triple alliance between China, Germany and Russia. He admits the veracity of the documents which we published, an admission which once and for all removes any idea of the letters having been forgeries, thus clearly establishing our bona fides. We should have been more than astounded had Dr. Sun contested the authenticity of the documents, for the simple reason that we went to the greatest possible pains and to considerable expense, before publishing them, to make certain that we were not being made the victims of a political hoax. There is, however, an allegation made by Dr. Sun regarding the nature of the letters which calls for some comment on our part. He asserts that they have been improperly translated and are partly false. We should like him to substantiate that statement. For his benefit and that of our readers also, let us explain that we had the documents translated by two disinterested, independent and fully qualified translators, and that the only variation between these two sets of translations was such as we should find between any two interpretations of like documents translated from one language into another—idiomatic variations in no sense affecting the general sense thereof. We assert most emphatically that the translations which we published contained nothing of falsity in the sense of wilful misinterpretation; we go further and state that any truthful translations which Dr. Sun himself may issue must of necessity conform to our interpretation so far as their general tenor is concerned. Our Chinese readers do not require any fresh translations. They have read the documents for themselves and can form their own conclusions as to their import.

We now come to Dr. Sun's denial of our suggestion that the correspondence implied an alliance based on Bolshevistic ideals. He states that that charge is unworthy of an answer, though he devotes practically the whole of his statement to a refutation of it. Our attitude was, and still is, that, reading between the lines, there is every justification for the inference. First of all, there is the outstanding fact that the Soviet Government stands for Bolshevism, and it surely must follow that anyone seeking an alliance with the Russians must be in sympathy with the main political policy of the Soviet Government. It is precisely because of the dangerous doctrines being spread by Russia's leaders that Britain, America, France and Japan have declined to have intercourse with the Soviet; and the fact that Dr. Sun is not averse to a political understanding with Russia surely warrants the view that he is in sympathy with that country's general political views and outlook. So far as Germany is concerned, we have already commented on the tendency apparent amongst many of her leaders to coquette with Sovietism, and the fact that there are amongst the Soviet officials many Germans using Russian names. What is not without its significance also is the reference to Admiral von Hintze, in the documents under notice, as a man of modern ideas, fully in accord with current democratic opinion. There are two other strongly suspicious points about these letters. One is the intense desire of Sun Yat-sen to keep the whole project secret; the other has reference to the creation of a special "Bureau." If, as Dr. Sun asserts, he was working solely to secure assistance for China from friendly-disposed nations, why all the secrecy and the injunctions to burn the correspondence? Dr. Sun is not given overmuch to modesty, and if his motives were so altruistic as he would have the world believe, what possible object could he have in keeping his countrymen ignorant of his activities on their behalf? That perhaps Dr. Sun will explain what the idea was in forming a Bureau, with Admiral von Hintze as secret Director—an organisation which was to send "agents" and "materials" to China. An alliance needs no machinery of this nature—it is simply a matter of an interchange of signed Treaties. A little more light on the nature of this Bureau and of the functions assigned to it would be illuminating.

The references by Dr. Sun to Germany and Russia as the only two non-aggressive and non-imperialistic nations display a lamentable failure on his part to read world politics aright. The whole spirit of the Washington Conference and the concessions made to China thereunder stand as a concrete refutation of Dr. Sun's enlightening and altogether unjust strictures passed upon the nations taking part in that historic gathering. And so far as Russia is concerned, we cannot do better than to use the words of a Shanghai contemporary that "the Soviet's foreign policy is a more fearful form of aggression than any Imperialism ever dreamed of." Dr. Sun tries to excuse himself for playing up to Germany and Russia by asserting that he was compelled to go to these nations for co-operation because a deaf ear was turned by American, British and other foreign capitalists to overtures which he made with a view to arousing their interest in the commercial development of China. The suggestion that these foreign capitalists were not, and are not, interested in opening up China is absurd. Their failure to respond to his overtures is very simply explained by the fact that he, as a mere self-appointed "President" of China, had no focus of authority and he knows very well that that was the reason why no-one would treat with him.

It will interest our readers to learn that Lieut. General Sir C. Harrington, K.C.B., D.S.O., General Officer Commanding-in-Chief of the Allied Forces in Constantinople, passed the whole of his regimental service in the King's Regiment, the 2nd Battalion of which is stationed in Hongkong.

Mr. R. E. Lindell had before him this morning a boat woman charged with being in possession of two sticks of dynamite without a permit. The explanation she advanced that it was used for the purpose of self-protection drew this comment from the Magistrate: "Oh, yes. Very poor excuse. Fined $50."

Kowloon folk, and a good many Hongkong people as well, will welcome the announcement that, with the approach of the cooler weather, the Kowloon Theatre dances, which gave so much pleasure and became so popular last winter, are being resumed. The first of the season has been announced for to-morrow night, when the music will be provided by the Jazz band of the "S.S. President Jackson."

A contractor with a sum of $300 in his pockets lost this money to two robbers who held him up at Causeway Bay on Saturday afternoon at 5.45. It was quite easy with a revolver held behind his back to induce the contractor to walk a little way into a quiet spot near the Tin Hau Temple where the robbers proceeded about their business with leisure. They escaped in the direction of the Temple.

For the moment, we can leave matters here, only adding that if Dr. Sun really wants the world to know the full facts of his scheme he will publish translations of the proposed secret Treaties and of the whole of the correspondence. What we made public was only a mere fragment. A policy of absolute frankness on his part will pay him best, in view of the possibility of further disclosures.

CRICKET.

Interport Practice Match.

Interest is already being shown in the approaching Interport games, as was demonstrated on Saturday by the ring of spectators on the Hongkong C.C. ground when a trial game was played. Those two old "test" match players, Mr. T. E. Pearce and Mr. R. Hancock, were the respective captains, and the teams were drawn from a fairly wide field. The wicket was pitched well on the new pavilion side, and appeared to be in good condition, but the early batsmen could do little. Subsequently the bat had a larger share in the proceedings, but there was no outstanding performance, unless Evans' 35, while wickets were going cheaply be so classed. Certainly it was a meritorious performance. The last pair also did well in carrying the score from 87 to 123.

Hancock's side, after a moderate start, made a better showing, due chiefly to five of the team exceeding 20. Lieut. Bacon was the highest scorer of the day, while Lieut. Finch-White, in carrying his bat for 22, batted in promising style. "Capt." Hancock showed that he can still handle the willow with effect, and Capt. Havelock-Davies made a rousing hit out of the ground.

The opposing score was passed for the loss of five wickets, and when stumps were drawn the batting side had obtained a lead of 45 with two wickets in hand. From the fact that 37 was the highest score of the match, it may be inferred that at no time was the bat in marked ascendancy. Probably this was due to lack of practice as much as to excellence of bowling. Arculli captured four wickets cheaply and Owen Hughes secured a trio at moderate cost, but on both sides the trundling task was divided between many hands, doubtless with a view to discovering fresh talent. Little of special merit was unearthed, despite which the game was useful as a preliminary test.

PAKHOI AFFAIRS.

Missions Compete With Business Firms.

A Pakhoi correspondent, writing us under date of September 27th, says—

General Wong Keung's forces appear to have occupied the whole of this territory with very little fighting. General Wong Ming-tong with his forces has retired into the Lung Shan region, which is an endless stretch of hills and mountains.

Mrs. Lo Hon-cho and her force have gone further eastward. They commandeered altogether some sixty junks here. I saw them take forty myself. All these junks anchored a good mile out from the shore for safety, but something which the junk people seem to have overlooked was a calm. A dead calm set in over the harbour, and Mrs. Lo Hon-cho's men at once set out in sampans, with their loaded firearms pointed at the sampans people, urging them to row for their lives to the junks, which were an easy prey for them in the calm. The junks in question are mostly family fishing junks, of fairly large size. Some of them have already returned to Pakhoi, and they all have the same sad story to tell, that their daughters have been taken from them by Mrs. Lo Hon-cho's men.

During the stay of these bandit troops in Pakhoi, there was much fear of them looting the town, and most of the valuable cargo was removed on to foreign premises for safety. There was keen competition between the foreign concerns here and some foreign Christian Missions. The Missions could always outbid the business firms, as it is well known they are well provided for without doing this kind of business. One stored the cargo in the Church Mission hall. Another Mission formerly provided an armed guard of Chinese, but on this occasion this was not seen, and it is well for the foreigners of the port that it is. The guard used to indulge in sham fights in the Mission compound. Armed with the Mauser type of rifle, they used to take sides, and it was very amusing to see them going through their tactics dodging behind trees, bushes, and brick walls, taking cover. Rapid firing was their favourite practice and the rattle of the shot and hammer of the rifle were ceaseless. They were mostly youngsters and were very fleet—it would not have been an easy matter to get them on the wing. A single shot from these warriors might have endangered the lives of the whole foreign community in the port.

There is a proper place for everything—a godown for cargo, a Christian Mission for spreading the Gospel of Christ. We know one foreign business concern here which bargained several days for one lot of 54 packages of cargo, but the Mission people cut them out, and this lot went into their Church hall together with a lot of other goods. These Missions should not enter into business competition with foreign business concerns in Treaty Ports.

TWICE ROBBED.

A Cook's Experience.

The other day we had a report of a case of highway robbery in which a hawker who sought to get back his stock-in-trade which was stolen from him was stopped by seven other men in the chase. He took up and relieved of a sum of $5. Yesterday there was another case, the circumstances of which, if not exactly similar, serve to show the temperance of some of our armed robbers.

It is related that a cook to a European family living at No. 30 Humphrey's Avenue was in Jordan Road near the Lai Man ding Kwok knitting factory yesterday afternoon when three men stopped him. One was armed with a dagger and whilst his fellows looked on, he put the victim through a search that resulted in the transference of a sum of $68 into his own pockets. The victim was then allowed to proceed and the story would have lost its interest here, but for the avenger displayed by the robber. He had been engaged in a deep consultation with his colleagues in crime, the upshot of which was that before the cook had gone a few paces, footsteps were heard coming along from behind, and the fellow with the dagger came hurriedly up. He insisted on again searching the person of the cook, and from a "hitherto" undisclosed source took the last fifty cents that had remained with the poor victim.

DOCKYARD R.C.

Annual Aquatic Sports.

Along the salubrious shores of Stonecutters Island on Saturday the gala spirit was very much in evidence, when the Dockyard Recreation Club concluded a very successful swimming season by holding their annual aquatic sports. The weather was ideal for such an occasion, and to the energetic Hon. Secretary, Mr. W. Prickett, and his committee of helpful workers every congratulation is due. The programme of events had been admirably arranged, no pains being spared to provide a variety of amusement, young and old alike being amply catered for. The quaint eccentricities of Messrs. Spanton, Cawsey and Grant, caused endless amusement, and their water "Derby" on especially constructed "Water Horses," "Spotted Sand," "Hongkong Chief" and "Horry Up" was one of the principal events. Mr. Spanton on "Spotted Sand" was proclaimed an easy winner. The amateur photographers of the Club were kept busy, one member being daintily arrayed in a very original costume.

The various handicaps arranged by the Committee caused keen contests. The children showed wonderful ability, both in swimming and diving. The closest and most exciting race of the afternoon was the 100 Yards Handicap for Girls over 10 years, the winner being Gladys Prickett, by half a length over Iris Phillips, with Dolly Spanton third. Considerable interest was evinced in the Boys' 100 Yards Handicap, Master Evans, first, being followed closely by Master Bersey, second and Master George, third.

The hole-digging contest caused much excitement, the competitor digging the deepest hole in the sandy beach in a certain time being proclaimed the winner. The successful competitor for the girls in this event was Edna Cowen, while Jimmy Milton proved his ability in the boys' contest.

A splendid tea was tastefully laid out in the Bungalow, kindly loaned by the Tamar's Recreation Committee. For the success of this very important part of the programme, every congratulation must go to the hard working Committee of ladies, Messames Prickett, Hill, Newnham, Phillips, Hodds, Johnston and Davies, who were given a strenuous time in attending to the needs of the hungry.

After tea, tugs-of-war on the sands were fiercely contested. The boys, backed by their mothers, were easy winners over the girls, backed by their fathers. At the conclusion of this event, flat races were held amongst the youngsters, while a "Typhoon" football match, Married v. Single, was indulged in. The "depression signals" being blown by the single men. The referee was conspicuous by his "foul play" and much amusement was caused by a penalty against the single men being stopped by a score or more of goal-keepers. The match ended in a win for the married men by one goal to nil.

At the close of the proceedings, the prizes were presented by Mrs. Prickett, who in a short address congratulated the winners and expressed her gratification at the spirit of comradeship prevailing among the members. A hearty vote of thanks to the Ladies' Working Committee was proposed by Mr. W. J. Grant and seconded by Mr. G. Hill. A "sing-song" in the "bows" of the steamboat on the passage home concluded a very successful sporting event.—Contributed.

TO-DAY'S MISCELLANY.

Lord Strathclyde's honourable disinterestedness in resigning the pension to which he is entitled as a retired Scots judge should strike another blow at the old legend of Scottish love of money, for, as it happens, there are several instances worth quoting of a similar disinterestedness in money matters in the case of Scots lawyers. It was Murray, Lord Mansfield, for instance, who rejected with scorn the offers made him in 1756 of a pension of £6,000 a year with the first vacant teller's office (worth about double as much) for his nephew if he would remain in the House of Commons as Attorney-General. "Good God!" he cried. "What merit have I that you should load this country, for which so little is done with spirit, with a fresh burden of six thousand a year?" Campbell accepted the Irish Chancellorship without pension, and afterwards did much judicial work in the Lords for some time without pay. Lord Finlay is another case of a Scotsman of the first rank declining a pension as an ex-Chancellor, and Lord Loreburn, after more than six years in office, draws only half pension.

Few experiences of travel can be more pitiable than that of the passengers lately marooned in the deserts of Arizona by the railway strike. The heat in this region during the summer is almost unendurable, to say nothing of the dust storms. The old Southern mail stage-coach line had a station in Arizona, where habitation was almost impossible on account of the flying dust. The employees there rarely remained any great length of time; occasionally the whole gang would leave in a body. The effects of the wind in transporting even moderately coarse rock waste are well-nigh incredible. Many of the broad valleys are filled with such detritus to a depth of hundreds of feet. "The wind has nothing to do but blow, and the sand nothing to do but fly" is the way an old prospector put it. In some localities the formation of a dune many acres in extent and several feet high is the work not of months but of days. And in certain districts these blinding dust-storms are in operation not far from half the time.

ORIENTALS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Japanese as Workers.

A chapter of the diary of a well-informed traveller, now on his way round the world, appears in the Times. Writing from Kelowna, Okanagan Lake, B.C., he says:—

It is strange; and stranger yet is the community. Here is an English colonel, in dungarees, handling a sprayer. There are Hindus and Chinese and Japanese travelling on their knees in the dust. West of the lake, over thousands of acres of rolling foothills, fit for cultivation but quite uncultivated, rule some twenty Red Indians, the relic of the tribes for whom the vast track is reserved. They hunt a little, farm a very little, grubble, grow wheat and look muddily picturesque. What do the Indians think of the intensely labouring people from the East who are busy in the valley? What do any of us think? A census has just been taken of the wealth of these Eastern immigrants, and it has revealed a gift for accumulation scarcely imagined even by the bankers. Nor is it wholly individual thrift. The Japanese, if not the rest, are not neglected by their nation.

Here is an example. A Japanese Consul lately visited one of these pretty townships on the Okanagan Lake. The local Japanese gave him a dinner of honour, to which were asked selected employers of Japanese labour and some important men of the place. The givers of the dinner took no part in it, beyond playing the part of waiters, but when dinner was over they were invited to sit down and smoke.

Then the Consul asked the employers a succession of quite direct questions. Had they found the Japanese workers honest? Hardworking? Obedient? Capable? "Yes," was the only possible answer to each of the several queries. When the interrogation was over the Consul still speaking in English, said that he had previously asked the Japanese somewhat similar questions about their employers; and finally he preached them a little sermon on the duty of working, working, working on behalf of themselves and on behalf of the nation.

Such is one, perhaps not wholly insignificant, episode in the relations of the Japanese to their emigrant workers. The people multiply, have large families, get possession of more land, and cultivate it to the hilt; have a pre-eminence in sea-fishing. The orchards of the Okanagan, know them as well as the intensive fruit-gardens of the Fraser Valley.

KOREAN CONSPIRATORS.

Another Attack on Mr. G. L. Shaw.

A special message from Seoul to the Asahi reports that Sen Kan-sho, described as the leader of the rebellious Koreans in Shanghai, had been plotting to assassinate the Korean Government officials in important positions and blow up the Government offices, a dozen dare-dies being the instruments of the contemplated outrage. To put the plot into execution, Sen Kan-sho started from Shanghai on the 24th of August, and arrived at New Wiju, on the Korean border, on the 27th. Mr. G. L. Shaw, "the suspicious Englishman of the Taiyuan Company," as the Asahi calls him, went, it says, to meet the leader of the assassins and took him home. In the night several Koreans came to the firm and, with the doors closed they had a clandestine conference. They are suspected to be keeping in touch with all the dangerous Koreans at New Wiju, Pyongyang, and Seoul. The police in these places are on the alert.

The chief point in the above story, of course, is that it is untrue, says the Japan Chronicle. Mr. G. L. Shaw refused to be driven out of Chinese territory to suit Japanese interests, so a new campaign is being started against him.

"THE U. P. TRAIL"

Special Coronet Film.

"By jove! I'd like to read that book" was the enthusiastic comment one Coronet patron made on Sunday night after watching the screening of a splendid film adaptation of Zane Grey's famous novel "The U. P. Trail." The great majority of the audience, however, had read the book and it served to heighten their appreciation of the very great degree of dramatic skill that has been displayed in the filming of it. The "U. P." as no reader of Zane Grey will need to be told, stands for the "Union Pacific," America's first transcontinental railroad, on the last stretch of which the hero of the story, Warren Neale, is engaged in supervising operations. Benton, the little town that had sprung up like a mushroom to cater for the needs and the pleasures of the men on the construction gangs, seems to have been the sort of place that had more shootings in one day than Hongkong has armed robberies in a week. At any rate it all goes to the weaving of a very fascinating and highly exciting story which, in particular, is a vehicle for some superb acting by Kathryn Williams in the part of "Beauty" Stanton.

ENGLISH COAL FOR ROUEN.

The British Consul at Rouen has issued a useful memorandum on the port. It says that coal imported into Rouen is mainly of British origin, but the consignments of German coal imported by sea, via Antwerp and Rotterdam, are considerably on the increase. Rouen imports not only for herself, but for Paris and a large section of Eastern France. The British market is now in a position to compete by an appreciable margin of profit (for the French importers) with the products of the French mines. The importation of petroleum continues on a large scale. Among other matters of interest the report deals with new extensions, discharging stations, construction and repairs, tariff of the port, rail and river transport and freights, shipbuilding and repair yards, and floating cranes. There is also a description of the new floating dock for vessels of a maximum length of 110 metres and 4,200 tons displacement, assigned to the port, together with an extract from the tariff of charges.

PORTUGAL AND EXPORTS.

A correspondent writes to the Journal of Commerce: During the past few weeks the action of the Portuguese Government in issuing a decree relative to exports from Portugal caused considerable anxiety to importing merchants and shipowners in this country. Several merchants have entered into heavy commitments with Portuguese buyers for pit-wood and other commodities, and it was thought that once again the Portuguese Government intended to prohibit exports. Mr. J. C. Gould, the senior member of Parliament for Cardiff, saw the President of the Board of Trade about the matter, and after representations it was found that the decree was merely intended to procure that the Portuguese Government should themselves obtain control of a proportion of the foreign money received for exports. As a guarantee that the exporter will hand a proportion to the Portuguese Government he is obliged to deposit a surtax in Portuguese currency with the Bank of Portugal before export, which is returned when he hands over the foreign money later. Of course such an arrangement is a matter of the internal policy of the Portuguese Government, but it is thought by merchants and shipowners that fuller explanations might be given, inasmuch as decrees worded rather vaguely destroy confidence. In this respect the Portuguese Government has cancelled a contract for the supply of Welsh coal, the credit of which was granted last autumn under the Overseas Trade Act to a well-known Welsh firm. Notwithstanding that, representations have

SHIPPING NEWS.

SEAMEN'S UNION AT HANKOW.

The trade union principle so far as seamen and engineers employed on steam launches and other small craft are concerned appears now to have spread to Hankow. It is announced that the workers there employed on boats plying on the Yangtze and Han Rivers have formed themselves into what is known as a union association, which will accordingly have a membership of about 5,000. A subscription of $1 is being collected for the establishment of the union.

NEW TYPE OF LIFEBOAT.

The United States Steamboat Inspection Service recently completed tests of a new nesting lifeboat designed and built by the American Balsa Company, New York City. Instead of the ordinary wooden gunwale, a steel angle is employed, and there is an outside flat bar keel with double angle keelsons. This construction, together with the shape of the boat, gives such a rigid truss that when the boat is loaded to its full capacity, or the equivalent of sixty-five persons, and supported at each end from the davits by the releasing gear, the deflection of the keel is less than 1/16 in. With the same load the boat, when floating in the water, showed a freeboard of 24 in. When the whole load was transferred to one side there was 7 in. of freeboard on the low side. The boat is 28 ft. long, and has a beam of 9 1/2 ft. and a depth of 3 1/2 ft.

THE QUEST.

Members of the ship's company of the Quest are beginning to dribble back to England. The story they have to tell of this, the last of Sir Ernest Shackleton's expeditions, must be somewhat depressing to the promoters. In a sentence, the voyage of the Quest may be put down as a failure from the point of view of scientific or commercial results. For this, of course, Frank Wild, who took over command after the tragic death of Sir Ernest, is in no way responsible. Now that his great Chief has gone, Wild is the greatest of British living explorers of the cold regions, a man of resource and indomitable courage. The fault dates from the very beginning. The vessel was unsuited, and the ship's company may not have fitted, and, above all, the purpose of the cruise seems to have been too vague for others than Sir Ernest himself to follow. It is now betraying no secret to say that when the expedition started last year official circles regarded it more or less as a joke, but as Sir Ernest Shackleton had done so much for exploration this excursion, which was to carry him to his death, could not be without, and official facilities were granted in all ways possible, although the hopes of tangible results were practically nonexistent.—Shipping and Engineering.

PHILIPPINES AND THE

COASTWISE LAW.

President Harding has addressed the following letter to Mr. Quezon, of the Philippine Legislature: I have just concluded reading the brief filed by yourself and Mr. Osmena, chairman of the commission on the part of the house, relative to the declaration of the effectiveness of the Coastwise Shipping law between the Philippine Islands and the United States mainland ports. I note that you stress the inadequacy of shipping on both the Atlantic and Pacific, but give special emphasis to such inadequacy on the Atlantic and the route by the way of the Suez Canal. As you understand, the law contemplates that no declaration of the Coastwise provision shall be made until the president is assured of the declaration of the service by American ships. I think I have already assured you in person, and am glad to confirm it now, that no such steps will be contemplated until there is indisputable evidence of the declaration of such shipping. One phase of your brief has interested me very much. I refer to your reference to the inability of Philippine citizens to own vessels of American registry and the ineligibility of Philippine citizens to be officers on such vessels. I am very glad you called this matter to my attention. I am very much interested to know if any Philippine capital is interested in investing in American vessels and whether there is a tendency on the part of Philippine citizens to serve as officials on such vessels. Moreover, I should like to know if Philippine capital is invested in vessels flying other national flags and whether any Philippine citizens are engaged in the service of such vessels under foreign flags.
